International Grant Program Application Guidelines

1. Recommenders

Employees sent from Japan office to overseas affiliates of Japanese companies based in the eligible countries.

2. Eligible organizations

Non-profit organizations (NPOs) whose head office or major office is in ASEAN countries or India and that work in the field of social welfare.

ASEAN countries (Brunei, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, Malaysia, Myanmar, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, Vietnam), and India

3. Grant amount

300,000 to 1,000,000 yen per project (total 4,000,000 yen)

4. Use of the grant

The subject organizations shall use the funds to implement projects contributing to social welfare in the eligible countries.

Reference

Example 1: Grant for the yellow hat project (securing safe school route/preventing traffic accidents)

Grant was given to set up "Traffic safety instruction project" in the region where people's awareness for traffic safety was not enough for the rapid expansion of vehicles, resulting in sharply increased traffic accidents. Posters created by children were placed at schools on the national roads, temples, restaurants, and agricultural stores so that many would see them. "Traffic safety lessons" were also held and yellow hats were distributed to children at schools. Activities to raise awareness of traffic safety started across the region.

Example 2: Grant for the employment assistance program for the people with visual impairment

Grant was made to support purchasing PCs and peripheral equipment for the NPO which assists people with visual impairment to find a job through information technology (IT) training. The equipment purchased by the funds was installed in the local partner organizations. Training skills were shared so that all trainees could be provided with the same training as in urban areas. The fund supported the establishment of a program which assists people with visual impairment in the remote areas who had difficulty in finding a job.

Example 3: Grant for networking to prevent human trafficking

Grant was given for strengthening cooperation to support victims and their rehabilitation program in the regions where child trafficking was a serious problem. The program was created to provide training to local police officers, administrative officers, and NPO staffs for the appropriate knowledge and understanding, to build cooperative network among them, to make control over human trafficking business more stringent, to provide protection to women victims and to support them to be independent through job training.
